HIS COURTESY OUTLASTS LIFE
Born Philanthropist, Dying Leaves Apology for Last Act
BY CARL E. BUCHHEIT (DISPATCH)
LONDON, Jan. 16.—All his life William Orin was sorry for some one. He was secretary and treasurer of the Burial Aid Society at Wolver-hampton, and he devoted much of his small salary to helping the down-and-out and needy families.
When he thought he ought to die he placed his head in a gas oven and joined the quiddees. But even as he was going to meet death he managed to scribble a note, reading: "Sorry to cause all this enormous trouble. Tried to avoid it. Will."

report which was made public today. Low red-inked rates which were reduced three times during the year from a high of 4 1/2 per cent to 2 per cent, and the prevalence, were considered responsible for the falling off in earnings.
The bank's final deficit after pay-

SCHOOL GIRLS IN ORGY

Nude Dance in Snow, Wild Gin and Peltin Party,
Before Jury; Policemen Thrown Out

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TOLEDO (O.) Jan. 16.—Nude dancing in the snow by two high school girls and a 15-year-old girl drew the fire of the Federal grand jury here, already investigating a liquor and peltin orgy of Scott High School pupils.

A wild dance in the snowdrifts on one of the main streets, when the son of a prominent banker and another boy dared a freshman high school girl to strip off her clothes and take part—which she did without further ado—shocked local pedestrians into calling police, it was revealed.

The paper admitted that a luxurious apartment has been maintained in a downtown building by the financier's son as a gathering place for a "peltin cult" composed almost entirely of Scott High School pupils.

BATTLE OVER GIRLS
New details of the "peltin" of 1924 shocked the state fathers of another generation in the Federal grand jury's continued quest of a Scott High School tanking party.

The party started early on a cold night in the snowdrifts, and the girls, who were dressed in evening gowns, appeared and immediately there was a flood of liquor into the hall.

To the weird African syncopated music of a saxophone and a girl's voice, the girls and boys began to dance. The girls, who were dressed in evening gowns, appeared and immediately there was a flood of liquor into the hall.

Ferdinand Took Full Blame

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—The State of California collected three lives as the wages for one sin today when Jack Ferdinand and John Sears were hanged at San Quentin Prison.

The same minute that John Ferdinand swung on the hangman's noose at Folsom Prison. The three lives gathered as toll for the death of Charles Chapman, Los Angeles broker, who was killed during a hold-up in Los Angeles in November, 1923; a hold-up in which all three of the above-mentioned men took part.

At the last moment, with God, Richard's final refusal to leave his friends, the three men were hanged in their minds. Ferdinand was hanged for a chance for his two companions.

"I did the shooting," he cried. "Those

"VALLEY OF CONTENT" AND
"TOPSY" TRIUMPHS

By Grace Kingsley

Thomas Wilkes's manly Irish chest is doubtless puffed out fit to burst the buttons on his vest these days. He has two successes running side by side on Broadway in New York. They are "The Valley of Content," by Blanche Upright, and "Topsy and Eva," with the Dunbar sisters.

Marjorie Rambeau is the star of "The Valley of Content," which opened on Tuesday night at the Apollo. Wilkes just received are to the effect that the play is a sensational success, New York being ready for a clean, human play of this sort. And as for Marjorie Rambeau, New York just opened its arms and took her to its heart in the role of the sweet young mother. The whole company, including Rex Cherryman, Harry Bannister, Ruth Harding, Rambeau, Millicent Hanley, Ramsay Wallace, Grace Gordon, Auddu, Katherine Reverser and Ker-ni Mantou, are a huge success.

"Miss Rambeau got a tremendous ovation on both the opening and succeeding nights," declares a wire. "There were ten curtain calls after each act, and she was forced to make a speech after the second act. A long run of the play is expected. Several critics claim it is not the usual show that New York is used to, but they are ready for a clean drama of the home."

One little Los Angeles girl makes a big hit in the third act, according to the same wire. She is Grace Gordon, in the role of Katie Walsh, of whom the wire says: "She received an ovation in the third act."

LOUISE LORRAINE

IN FEATURED ROLE

Having seen and been seen by South America, or, anyhow, a big part of that country, Louise Lorraine has come back home to settle down to work. Not that she didn't work while down in the tropics.
She says that she certainly did.
But no sooner had she taken off her hat and hung it up in her own Hollywood flat than the telephone rang and she was invited to play the lead in Phil Goldstone's first of a series of Thrust Productions, this one being called "The Verdict."

Fred Windermere will direct.
The cast is a notable one, including Buster Miller, Elliott Des-ter, Lou Tellegen, Gertrude Aster, George Fawcett, Gaston Glass, Paul Walcott, Taylor Holmes, Walter Long, Maude George, Stanton
Heck and others.

To come back to Miss Lorraine —and who wouldn't that could?— while she was in South America
she was featured in two big productions made by a South American company in Brazil and in Argentina. She was in Brazil in "The Verdict," and in Argentina
in "The Verdict."

She was in Argentina in nothing.

to California from his Long Is-Long Island and is regularly seen in some of the biggest New York stage successes, left the eastern metropolis when winter greeted the inhabitants with three feet of snow. "The actor will make his

MIROVITCH PLAYS

Dvorak Symphony Receives Unanimous Reception

Occasionally we hear a symphony program which makes us appreciate all the more certain inspired moments of rare virtuosity and musicianship on other programs. The one which occurred yesterday afternoon was one of that type. Everything was adequately performed, but at no time during the afternoon was the music inspired.

Beethoven's Overture "Leonore"
No. 2, was performed first. Alfred Mirovitch in the Rubinstein Concerto followed, and the symphonic offering which closed the program was the Dvorak "From the New World."

Mr. Mirovitch was tendered an ovation at the close of the operetta. In spite of certain brilliances, however, the number as a whole has no great share and the pianist might have done much better in a nobler vehicle. The first movement in the best of the three —indeed, it is the most grateful; besides, one can listen to one movement of the rather simple Rubinstein, harmonies (for whatever ability he undoubtedly possessed as a pianist, he was certainly no great composer) without becoming especially tired of the number. It offered little in either poetry or brilliance.

The Dvorak number was played very interestingly, yet rather accidentally and without inspiration.
The last movement, with its sturdy rhythms, was the most effective.
The themes are always lovely, but likewise they can become tiresome.
Part of the interpretation lacked smoothness. There were certain climaxes which were effective. One feels, sometimes, that the men in the orchestra have become almost too sure of themselves in numbers which they have played many times. This is almost inevitable.
They play with more spirit, expert-ness and enthusiasm in numbers which they have recently learned.

METROPOLITAN TO HAVE ANNIVERSARY

Next week, beginning Saturday, the 24th inst., will be Anniversary Week at the Metropolitan. The theater will celebrate its second birthday with a series of entertainments. "A Man Must Live," described as the fastest photoplay in which the Dvorak has not yet appeared, is a brilliant accompanying program of acts.

Dining ceremonies and festivities commemorating the occasion have been arranged by managing director Albert A. Kaufman.

"INFERNO" SHOWING AT MILLER'S TODAY

Although the "Inferno" one of the three allegories which comprise Dante's "Divine Comedy" was written some time between 1314 and 1319 A.D., it has lived through the centuries as the outstanding literary classic of its kind. It describes Dante's trip through hell, guided by the ancient poet Virgil, whom Dante always seemed to regard as his special guardian spirit.
The other two poems, "Purgatory" and "Paradise," concern further wanderings of the two poets through the realms of the dead and the living.

"Dante's Inferno," the William Fox screen production of this classic, is the most vivid and most fantastic picture of that nature ever attempted.

Butterfly Trail Ends in Grim Tragedy at Bay City

"She Was The One I Loved Best"—Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year-old San Francisco "jazz baby," confessed slayer of her mother, admitted behind the bars her love for the woman she shot in the back of the head. (P. & A. photo.)

Thirty Years of Service—"Billy" Moore, a member of the local police force since 1895, retired from service yesterday. (Times photo.)

Ready To Pay The Penalty—"I was in a frenzy—I never thought of such a thing before," San Francisco's "jazz baby" slayer declared. "I was in a rage and fired without thought. I am ready to take what is coming to me." (P. & A. photo.)

Called Bribe Taker—Gov. Jonathan M. Davis of Kansas, center of political fiasco in connection with asserted bribe-taking for pardons. (P. & A. photo.)

Gets Peace Plan Award—Dr. David Starr Jordan yesterday received his recently won prize of $25,000 for proposing a plan to promote international comity. Dr. Jordan is on the left; next is Raphael Herman, next William Gibbs McAdoo and next Dr. A. O. Thomas, who made the presentation.

Cupid Scores Real K. O.—In announcing their engagement and their impending wedding last night, Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor both agreed that wedding bells and the gong of the prize ring don't harmonize. The wedding will take place about June 1 and will put the K. O. on Jack's career as a prize-fighter.

New Warden at Atlanta—John Snook (above), warden of the Idaho State Penitentiary, has been appointed warden of the Atlanta (Ga.) Federal Prison to succeed A. E. Sartain, ousted on incompetency charges. (P. & A. photo.)

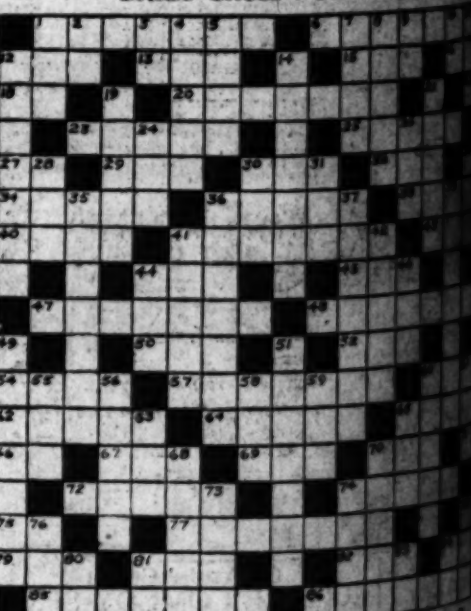

Identify "Mystery Girl"—After months of investigation the identity of "Charlotte," Chicago's "mystery girl," has been established through newspaper aid. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis McGuire, St. Louis, it is revealed. (P. & A. photo.)

Unveil Portrait at Flintridge—An oil painting, reproduced above, of Ex-Senator Frank P. Flint by Arthur Cahill will be unveiled Saturday afternoon at the Flintridge Country Club. The portrait is presented to the club by members.

MAC SMITH RETAINS STATE OPEN TITLE

SCORES 308 STROKES IN CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNEY

Brothers Finish Second and Third; Duncan, Mitchell Tie for Fourth Place

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—MacDonald Smith of the San Francisco Golf Club, Great Neck, L. I., successfully defended his California open golf championship at Lakeside, here, when he scored a 76 in the final round for a total 308 strokes for the 72 holes. Smith played faultless golf throughout the tournament and was virtually conceded the victory at the third round when he established a lead of two strokes over Hunter of Los Angeles, former British amateur.

GOLF TEAM CONTESTS ON TODAY

Brentwood Plays La Cumbre Golfers; Coronado Meets Pasadena

Three interclub golf team matches are scheduled for today, all of which were postponed from their original dates. The Brentwood Country Club golfers will perform at the La Cumbre Country Club in Santa Barbara, in a Class B, group 1 match; Coronado's ten-man team will appear at the Pasadena Golf Club in a Class B, group 2 contest, while Mountain Meadows will entertain Victor's representatives in a match which will determine a leader for group 2 of Class B. Tomorrow the Coronado golfers will be in action at the Hillcrest Country Club, and Monday the La Cumbre players will play another postponed match with the Virginia Country Club men at Beach, while Palos Verdes and Redlands and Arroyo Grande and Hollywood have deferred matches to make up in the near future.

The first hole-in-one to be registered on the short sixteenth at the Hollywood Country Club since the opening of the new tee was registered yesterday by E. J. Reed, who sank his tee shot for the coveted "hole" on his card.

A blind bogey sweepstakes was held for Hollywood women members yesterday. Mrs. C. A. Hagberts winning with a net 56. Mrs. E. M. Phillips was second with 58, and Mrs. C. C. Little and Mrs. W. G. Amor tied for third, with 59 each. Golfing records in the annual winter handicap will be played today at Hollywood.

BURBANK QUINTEZ WINS
In a game featured by plenty of air-tight guarding on both sides, Burbank High School defeated Redondo by a 15-to-7 score in a practice basketball game played at Redondo yesterday.

At half-time the home-town athletes were leading, 10 to 7, and inasmuch as the Cardinals hadn't been hitting the hoop with any great regularity things looked fairly rosy for Coach Colin Heath's men. However, Andy Kerr, Stanford mentor, decided that the slight advantage of Mr. Nevers would come in handy during the second session and hustled the big fellow into the fray. Local fans will remember from last year that Ernie is something of a dribbler and when he started down the clearcourt court last night something or somebody had to give way and it happened to be the Pomona guards. Mr. Nevers called three baskets and put his team out in front.

Capt. Jack Jason was the big noise for the losers, running up nine digits while little Lowell Wilson got the other four. With Nevers in the battle during the second half personal fouls were rather frequent and both Jason and Ralph Robles, Pomona guard, went out on personal fouls. The Sagehens had eight foul shots in the second stanza and made but one of 'em. A crowd of 1500 saw the clash.

Tonight the Stanford team plays the local University of California outfit at the Manual Arts gym.

Leonard's retirement from the ring did not surprise Rickard. "I have known for some time that he was going to quit," he said.

Joe Maddock Resigns as Oregon Coach
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
EUGENE (Or.) Jan. 16.—Joe Maddock, head football coach at the University of Oregon tonight tendered his resignation for the reason, he stated, that he cannot accept a full-time job. The faculty wanted him to devote his entire time to athletics, but he said he was unable to do so on account of his business interests. No successor has been named.

WELLS AND GOLFUND DRAW
Billy Wells and Harry Golfund milled to a draw in the main event of the Hollywood American Legion Stadium's weekly program in the mathematical center of Auerback's features, spattering the ring with claret, and the night of blood evidently carried some.

FUENTE TO RETURN HERE TO EXPLAIN HIS PART IN FIASCO
Tony Fuente, erstwhile boxing champion of Mexico, is returning to Los Angeles to explain his share in the cream-puff bout at Culver City a few months back with Fred Fulton, the Minnesota diver. Such was the information given to Judge Reeve of the Superior Court yesterday when Fulton, John E. Reddy, his manager, and Fred (Windy) Winner, who had Fuente in tow until the Culver City fiasco, appeared for trial on a charge of prize fighting for compensation. The trial, however, was continued until next Friday. Fuente, it was stated, has left Mexico City to join his wife in Arizona and will come directly to Los Angeles from that State.

DELANEY FINISHES TIGER FLOWERS IN SECOND ROUND

A TRAINED GRIZZLY

Wilbur Johns, captain of the local University of California basketball team, is trained to propel the canna through the net. Tonight local fans will get a chance to see what he can do against the Stanford tossers. The game is slated for the Manual Arts gym and the Grizzlies are all steamed up over a possible victory.

Cardinals Score 21-to-13 Victory Over Pomona College Tossers at Claremont

The presence of Mr. Ernest Nevers, the 180-pound human switch engine who does his stuff on various Stanford athletic teams, proved too much of an obstacle for the Pomona College canna tossers to overcome last night and the Redshirts from the Farm won a 21-to-13 battle from the Sagehens at Claremont.

At half-time the home-town athletes were leading, 10 to 7, and inasmuch as the Cardinals hadn't been hitting the hoop with any great regularity things looked fairly rosy for Coach Colin Heath's men. #### STUDENTS IN TRIBUTE TO GLOOMY GUS

U.S.C. Eds and Co-eds Give Former Coach Great Reception at Meeting

BY PAUL LOWRY
If the wisdom of Elmer C. Henderson as head football coach of U.S.C. was a matter to be decided by the Trojan student body "Gloomy Gus" would still be in the saddle. For a full five minutes at chapel exercises yesterday morning Trojan students, who packed the assembly room, rose and cheered to the echo the man who came to U.S.C. in the fall of 1919 when it was in the dumps and attained a measure of success approximated by no other coach in the history of the institution.

It was Henderson's last official act as coach of the 1924 football team, though his resignation had been accepted the day before, to present the members of the team with the sweaters awarded them by the athletic committee.

Henderson made a neat little speech praising the work of the team collectively and individually, and clasped the hand of each man as he strode forward to receive his sweater. He then turned to the team and until he came to Johnny Hawkins, captain and quarterback of the '24 Trojan variety.

Hawkins' three years of activity on the Trojan team was commented on, but Henderson failed to give Hawkins the customary handshake.

It was a bit of a display that might have gone unnoticed but for the fact that Hawkins, who was generally rated by gridiron authorities as the best of the worst quarterback that ever played on a Trojan football team, is understood to have turned and hit the band that kept him in the signal-calling berth in spite of all opposition, by leading his element classed for his coach's scalp.

This was about the only ex-

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Benney Leonard's successor as the world's lightweight champion, will be recognized by Tex Rickard after the contest between Sammy Mandell, Rockford, and Sid Terris, New York, which is to be staged in Madison Square Garden on February 6.

"I have decided," Rickard said today, "to put up a diamond belt for the winner of the Mandell-Terris contest, and I will recognize him as the champion. There is no question in my mind that they are the two best boys in the lightweight class and the winner will be champion so far as I'm concerned."

Rickard said he would exact a promise from the winner that he will accept the challenges of recognized challengers within a certain period of time.

Leonard's retirement from the ring did not surprise Rickard. "I have known for some time that he was going to quit," he said.

Joe Maddock Resigns as Oregon Coach
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
EUGENE (Or.) Jan. 16.—Joe Maddock, head football coach at the University of Oregon tonight tendered his resignation for the reason, he stated, that he cannot accept a full-time job. The faculty wanted him to devote his entire time to athletics, but he said he was unable to do so on account of his business interests. No successor has been named.

WELLS AND GOLFUND DRAW
Billy Wells and Harry Golfund milled to a draw in the main event of the Hollywood American Legion Stadium's weekly program in the mathematical center of Auerback's features, spattering the ring with claret, and the night of blood evidently carried some.

FUENTE TO RETURN HERE TO EXPLAIN HIS PART IN FIASCO
Tony Fuente, erstwhile boxing champion of Mexico, is returning to Los Angeles to explain his share in the cream-puff bout at Culver City a few months back with Fred Fulton, the Minnesota diver. Such was the information given to Judge Reeve of the Superior Court yesterday when Fulton, John E. Reddy, his manager, and Fred (Windy) Winner, who had Fuente in tow until the Culver City fiasco, appeared for trial on a charge of prize fighting for compensation. The trial, however, was continued until next Friday. Fuente, it was stated, has left Mexico City to join his wife in Arizona and will come directly to Los Angeles from that State.

Twelve-Round New York Mill in Surprising Finale

Sensational March of Negro Toward Title Stopped

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The sensational march of Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, on the lightweight championship, was halted in spectacular manner to-night on the end of the pile-driver right hand of Jack Delaney, Bridgeport boxer, before a crowd which taxed the capacity of Madison Square Garden.

A terrific right, crashed cleanly and solidly on the jaw of Flowers, crushed the negro in three minutes and forty-three seconds of action. Forty-three seconds after the men had started the second round in their scheduled twelve-round battle, Flowers was groveling in the ring, near his own corner, while Referee Jack O'Brien was tolling off the ten seconds which spelled crushing defeat for the negro.

SPECTACULAR ENDING
It was a spectacular ending to a brilliant bout in which the public's favorite who was gauged by the betting, went down under one of the first clean punches of the battle. Flowers entered the ring at odds of 3 to 1 and in some places as high as 3 to 1. He chased Delaney about the ring furiously in the first round. But Delaney was not afraid of this Tiger.

In the second round Flowers went after his rival with ligher fury. His determination was even greater as he pursued Delaney about the ring, lacking the Connecticut boxer to the ropes. Then in a thoughtful moment, just after he had backed Delaney to the ropes, he stepped back and waited for the real sent over a right, half hook, half uppercut, which crashed full against Flowers' chin.

The negro's body quivered an instant, then he slipped to the floor out.

The first bout of the evening was a six-round affair in which Bob Lawson, a sparring partner of Tiger Flowers, knocked out Roscoe Hall of Jersey City, after one minute and forty-six seconds' fighting in the third round. Lawson comes from Pittsburgh and weighed 150 pounds. Hall scaled 174½.

LOU DILLON CALLED TO FINAL REST

Queen of Race Horses Dies in Santa Barbara Stables at Age of 27

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16. Lou Dillon, queen of race horses, and the first horse to trot a mile in two minutes, died yesterday. Lou for four years has spent her declining years at the stables of C. K. G. Billings, millionaire sportsman, with Ulan, another world's champion trotter, as a stable-mate.

Lou was 27 years of age at the time of her death. Born at Santa Rosa, Cal., in 1898, she began her record-breaking performances in 1903, when she broke the world's amateur record for trotting mares to wagon by trotting the mile in 2:02 1-4.

The world's first two-minute mile by trotter was set by Lou Dillon at Readville, Mass., on August 24, 1903, when she broke the existing record of 2:02 1-4.

The race which made Lou famous was run at Memphis in October of the same year. In an attempt to break her own record of 2:00 flat, she trotted the mile in 1:58 1-4, a record which stood until October 8, 1912, when Ulan, her stable-mate, trotted the mile in 1:58 flat.

Lou Dillon was stabled by Sidney Dillon, out of Lou Milton, and has come ten surviving children and three granddaughters. Ben Billings, Lou Dillon's son of 1911, has a 3-year-old trotting record of 2:17 1-4, in addition to his 6-year-old pacing record of 2:05 1-4.

In Canada there are fields of soft-coal lignite, estimated at 27,000,000,000 tons, which would last 140,000 years at the present rate of consumption.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Friday for July and 17 to 21 points decline for the other months. There was a busy day for the market fruit brokers and operators. It has been a long time, in fact, since the whole lot showed so much life. The jump in price, graciously announced by the association to take effect next week—thereby giving every interested concern a chance to cover their wants—was followed by similar advances all along the line and orders were coming in fast for goods at the old prices: 20s, 30s, 40s and up, all had their part in the play on California while Oregon has moved in heavy lots around 84 cents. The recent sale of Oregon has been traced to a big New York operator and another sale of Italian style oranges seems to have gone to another local house, with some real factors in prices taking hold of the situation in earnest on a more moderate basis. There are certain prophecies as to the way in the rain market that point toward a big revival in this item very soon. An advance in prices before the 20th inst. will be no surprise. Heavy buying of futures, including corn, tomatoes, peas and string beans, was reported from the market. Some of this business was at firm opening prices. There were heavy orders for spot transactions. Small jobbers were placing orders for a few hundred cases of larger grades of spot tomatoes. The market for the 20th inst. was a spot and factory tomatoes of the 3 and 4 sizes. Factory prices generally were $2.15 to $2.18, but those could be duplicated on spot in some cases, mostly, however, at $2.15. No. 10 peaches were not to be had under $7 and most houses with stocks declined 15 cents more; No. 16 apricots at $6.25 found ready buyers, and No. 10 apples were firm at $4.35 to $4.50, with the tendency higher for well-known packs. Reports from the Pacific Coast indicate that all fruits are scarce. Tuna fish and salmon were moving in routine fashion.

SUGAR ACTIVE
The outlook for the sugar market brightened. Two sales aggregating 15,000 bags were made to local refiners at 12.50 cents a pound, and a local refiner at the same price. A sale of 10,000 bags for prompt shipment was reported to the local market at 12.50 cents a pound. A sale of 10,000 bags for prompt shipment was reported to the local market at 12.50 cents a pound. Motorship Elmworth Arrives on Maiden Trip
Los Angeles Will be Regular Port of Call

Entrance of the thirty-ship fleet of R. S. Dalgleish Ltd., of Newcastle-on-Tyne, late tramp trade out of Los Angeles Harbor from Europe and to the oriental range, was announced yesterday with the arrival of the pathfinder of the fleet, the $500-ton motorship Elmworth, from Newcastle on her maiden voyage. She brought $500 worth of cargo for this port, and her master announced that Los Angeles Harbor will hereafter be a regular port of call for the fleet. The Elmworth is in command of a mariner famous in British shipping circles, Capt. T. P. Wilson, R.N.R., who, during the World War, headed the tanker fleet that ran the gauntlet of German submarines and cruisers to carry fuel to the British Grand Fleet in the North Atlantic. He commanded the H.M.S. Kurs.

Utility Budget Grants Arizona Better Service

PHOENIX, Jan. 16.—The improvement budget in Arizona of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company for 1925 contemplates expenditure of about $1,000,000, with work being advanced on the line between Phoenix and Winslow, to be connected in a new circuit with the line that has been built westward from Albuquerque to Gallup, affording a new line to the Pacific Coast. It also has absorbed a line from Lordsburg, N. M., to Durango, Ariz. The corporation lately was granted a substantial increase in its charges for installation, with the rate for instruments not in place and for inside charges.

PHOENIX, Jan. 16.—Following certification by the State Auditor, bonds of the Phoenix Water and Electric Company for $1,000,000 have been signed by the local officers and have been shipped to San Francisco and St. Louis for distribution through bond houses, several of which have reported oversubscription.

PHOENIX, Jan. 16.—The Mortgage-Bond Company of New York has given Phoenix consideration as a city of the $5,000,000 class and has established a local office, in charge of E. A. Marshall of this city. The United States Mortgage and Trust Company of New York also has entered the local field. Its Phoenix office is in charge of John H. Page, former territorial secretary.

HART SAYS WIFE SOUGHT HIS RUINFate of Arkuckle Held Up to Him, Actor TestifiesMate's Attempts to Get Cash Settlement ToldHusband Cleared of Charges of Using His Fists

did not want my name commended. I made the trust fund of $10,000 in return for her promise to refrain from using my name commercially.

At another time, Hart testified, his young wife informed him that she knew she could get all of his money if she wanted it—but that she wanted his sister's money most.

DENIES WIFE WAS ILL

Mrs. Hart told the court that she was very ill at the time she was ejected from her husband's home.

"She wasn't so ill," Hart testified. "She was well enough to take French and hard lessons every day and to go shopping daily with her mother."

"But there was quite a fuss about the baby, wasn't there?" he was asked.

"There certainly was," Hart replied, "and there always will be as long as I live."

And when Hart left the witness stand he halted in front of his wife, stopped, fondled her and kissed her on the cheek. He then passed on to his seat without a sign of recognition for his wife.

"Humph," Mrs. Hart was heard to remark. "It's the first time he's ever recognized his son—but he has a big audience this afternoon."

NEVER STRUCK HER

Hart, during the morning session, was vindicated of the oft-repeated charges that he had ever struck his wife and had dragged her across the floor by her hair.

The vindication came from the lips of his estranged wife during her testimony.

"It is not true that my husband ever pulled me around by my hair," Mrs. Hart replied, when asked the question by Hart's attorney. "It is not true that he ever struck me."

Hart, had been sitting motionless in his chair the entire time. He suddenly raised himself to his feet. His hands were trembling and he uttered a loud guttural sound that echoed through the courtroom.

"I beg your pardon, Your Honor," Hart apologized. "But that is a great relief to me."

Mrs. Hart's presence on the witness stand came as a surprise to many persons in the courtroom. Few were prepared for the story that Mrs. Hart told when she was told, it was the first detailed story to be told in any courtroom of the marital strife of the actor and his wife.

The witness related that she and Hart were married on December 7, 1921, and resided together at their Hollywood home until May 16, 1922, when her husband ejected her from the home. She first saw him in their married life occurred on May 1, she testified, when her husband told her that he would give her the house as quickly as possible.

TELLS HIM OF BABY

"Next day," she continued, "he came to my room. He said he wanted me to sit on his lap, that he had something to talk over with me. He said we could not agree and that we must separate. I went to see my mother. She told me the first year of my marriage was always the hardest. I went back to my husband and told him we could not separate, that we were going to have a baby. I told him he was putting his own baby out of his house. He said that if he wanted to be out of the baby out without a dollar."

"I was nothing to posterity," he said.

LOCKED OUT OF HOME

Mrs. Hart was sobbing. "I told him all I wanted was my husband—my baby—my home. He excluded me in a trembling voice. 'That's all I wanted! He was anxious for me to go to Reno for a divorce. He said he would give me $5000 for attorney's fees. I told him I never would get a divorce. I didn't believe it."

"He said I could have his sister Mary's room as a nursery until the baby came—then I would have to get out. I was ill—so ill—and one day, when I returned from downtown Los Angeles, I was locked out of my home. He refused to let me in."

Mrs. Hart and her mother then stayed in a house in Santa Monica, the witness testified.

Upon Vincent Vaughan, formerly Mrs. Hart's attorney, and who is now deceased, was thrust the blame for the divorce plans. Vaughan, Mrs. Hart testified, urged her to go to Reno, had her that if she did not sign the property agreement as it was drawn up she would not receive a cent and would lose the custody of her boy.

"I remember reading a clause in the contract which stated I was to go to Reno and divorce my husband," Mrs. Hart testified under cross-examination. "But I felt at that time that if the baby should be a boy everything would be all right and my husband would come back to me."

"There were two conditions in marriage agreement. One was that if there was to be a baby there never would be a divorce. The other was that my husband's sister, Mary, should live with us. To that, I agreed because I was very fond of her and I think she was fond of me, too."

The clause in the contract testified that Mrs. Hart must remain from working in motion pictures and from using the name of Hart for publicity purposes was signed, Mrs. Hart stated, to avoid publicity.

TESTIMONY COMPLETED

"But you did get publicity, didn't you?" she was asked.

"Yes, but I tried to avoid it," Mrs. Sophia Wastover, Hart's

BAY CITY ROTARIANS HERE

Boys' Work Co-ordination, Greater Friendliness Between Cities Discussed

A pepful group of Rotarians from the Bay City, 150 strong, descended upon Los Angeles yesterday to enjoy a day of the glorious sunshine here and the hospitality of the local Rotary Club, which entertained the visitors and was entertained by them at a luncheon at noon and again at a banquet in the evening, given at the Biltmore.

The visit of the men from the north had been arranged by the Los Angeles Rotarians as a return courtesy for a similar event some time ago in San Francisco, when the local club visited that city. The principal object of this interchange of visits, as explained at the luncheon, is to promote greater friendliness between the two cities and their respective territories.

Shortly after their arrival, a conference of members of the two clubs was called, at which the subject of the co-ordination of the activities of various boys' organizations was discussed by Russell Bell, president of the Associated

Boys' Council of San Francisco, outlined briefly to the local men the progress along this line made in his city since the formation of the body of which he is the head.

It was decided at the conference that steps will be taken by the Rotarians in Los Angeles to form a similar organization here. A meeting for that purpose will be called some time within the next ten days or two weeks. Among the attendees at the conference were representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Boy Scouts and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Y.M.C.A., the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish Federation, the Optimist Club and other organizations.

member-in-law, also testified to the signing of the property settlement contract.

Presentation of testimony, both by Mrs. Hart and her husband, was completed late in the afternoon. The case was continued until 11 a. m. next Monday, when the attorneys' arguments will be heard. The only other witnesses heard were R. S. Jones and Frank C. Hoyt, attorneys formerly employed by Hart and who drew up the contract of property settlement.

The limerick fans greeted the judge's award in the Santa Barbara limerick, one fan writing in "Barbara" he is Charles Rose, the folks back in Pennsylvania had better get the limerick ready, for four limericks certainly rhyme with "Barbara" as both are commonly pronounced. They both end with "Barbara."

The Limerick Editor has been asked again, and maybe, toward the close of the limerick feature, he will follow the suggestion. Toward the close, when he can take a vacation and be out of the folks' call.

Mr. Limerick man of our fair city first.

With trembling curiosity we thirst for the limerick of the best line.

Of the limerick; that's fine now the love of Pete give us the word.

CITIES ELATED
AT HARBOR AID

selected by the first four members of the board.

MANY STEPS AHEAD

No engineering plans for the expenditure of the government's $1,500,000 appropriation can be made, said Assistant City Attorney Leach, until the greater harbor district is created, and that must come from the state legislature, then the approval by the voters of the joint port of Los Angeles and Long Beach, the greater harbor board. This board will take the place of the Long Beach and Los Angeles harbor boards.

President Golden of the Los Angeles harbor board, said yesterday that he was greatly pleased at the action of Congress and said that there was, as he would expect, the bill, "written on the $1,500,000 Federal dredging appropriation. This money, he said, will be used for the dredging of the main channel to a depth of thirty-five feet from a present depth of thirty feet, the dredging of large areas in the west basin and at the outer harbor, and the dredging of the channel to the Long Beach city line.

Former Judge Leslie R. Hewitt, who has been in conference with City Attorney Jess Stephens of Los Angeles, and City Attorney Charles Mason of Long Beach, will leave for Sacramento Sunday night to present a "skeleton" bill on the subject of the harbor district to the state legislature.

Before the bill is finally acted upon it will be perfected and placed before the various legislative bodies interested, said Burt Hentley of the Greater Harbor Committee of Two Hundred.

Progress has been made toward the realization of a municipal railway system also, another of the provisions imposed by the Army engineers.

While the project virtually is assured, having passed the House, the money will not be available until after another appropriation bill has been passed, a year hence, said Mr. Hentley. The building of the breakwater, however, is estimated to take eight years.

Los Angeles and Long Beach between them are to share one-half of the cost of the breakwater, which totals $14,000,000. The dredging is to be done wholly at the cost of the Federal government.

While $3,000,000 was struck from the cost of the breakwater at the instance of the administration, Mr. Hentley said that during the time it is under construction further legislation will be passed appropriating the money.

Due to reclaimed land, said Mr. Hentley, the cities of Long Beach and Los Angeles, while expending $7,000,000, probably will profit more than $20,000,000.

The entire project will be built under the supervision of the Federal government.

JORDAN GIVEN
PEACE AWARD

Through everything that was said, both at the luncheon and at the peace award ceremony, there ran a note of subdued but earnest hopefulness rather than of extravagant optimism.

FUTURE IN SCHOOLS

"In the schools of today the future of every country is written," said Dr. Jordan.

"The next generation will be required to change the trend of civilization," said Dr. Thomas.

"None of the great problems affecting mankind has been solved by mankind. But—"

"Education," he added, "is the only ground on which the nations of the world can hope to meet."

Religion would not serve, because there are too many faiths. Christian does not agree with pagan, nor pagan with pagan.

"Education," said Dr. Millikan, "is all that one generation passes on to another, except his own plans."

"Civilization," he quoted from Wells, "is a race and a catastrophe and education. And if that is so, then education is our only hope."

Where are those who will argue that because human nature always has done so and so, it always will do so? We must not always have been war. But they do will themselves opposing a whole school of thought. In my own lifetime I have seen all that has happened in the world. In my own lifetime I have seen all that has happened in the world.

NO SCHOOL FOR PEACE

"In this and every country," said Raphael Herman, "we have schools for war but none for peace." Teach the children to fight, he said, and you will have a peace education in peace in the Jordan program.

SUPERMEN AIM OF CHURCH

Founder of Christianity as Model to be Subject of Sermon at Temple Baptist Tomorrow

Wanted: Supermen. Apply to any church in Los Angeles. Bring references. Development of a race of god-like men has been the dream of science, philosophy and religion since first the light of reason penetrated the thick skulls of our savage ancestors. Science and philosophy have done their best—or worst—and produced many interesting, though usually one-sided types. Excepting in a few instances religion, too, evidently has failed. The super-beast, in human form, the super-intellectual, minus heart, and the anemic saint each and all have been discarded as a standard type of the supreme man. Today, however, the church is joining hands with science, art and philosophy in an endeavor to produce a perfectly-balanced race for which the Creator cannot be called upon to apologize.

Christendom asserts it has found the type of perfect manhood in the Founder of its religion and is bending every effort to bring men to a realization of their Divine inheritance and their kinship with their gentle, masterful Father. "How to Become a Superman" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher at the Temple Baptist Church tomorrow morning. In the evening Dr. Brougher's subject will be "Do Roman Catholics and Christ More Than Protestants?"

"The greatest marvel in this universe is the dawn of that new era which shows men how to cure his diseases through the Divine Power inherent in himself," declares Mrs. W. H. Castberg, pastor of the Church of Divine Power, who will give a lecture on that subject at the Morocco Theater tomorrow morning.

One method of developing the consciousness of unity with the "Overworld" will be discussed at the Music Art Hall tomorrow morning by Swami Yogananda, a noted educator from India, who will give a lecture on "The Science of Raja Yoga."

SATURDAY NIGHTS
There are five bath nights this month, which is fine for folks who wish to start the year clean.

OH, SAY, CAN YOU SEE?
American girls spent $25,000,000 more for cosmetics during 1924 than in the previous year and we are willing to admit that they had something to show for it.

FOR THE SUPERSTITIOUS
Watch your step. There are three Fridays the 13th this year. They come in February, May and November and at those times it might be well to watch out for cross-eyed oil-stock salesmen or cross-word puzzles.

IDLE TALK
The most brutal assertion is one often made—that every man has his price and every now and then something appears to give it the lie. It is a useless and uninspiring reflection that men make upon their own race.

FARMING BY RADIO
Speaking of modern efficiency, the farmers of America are now being taught by wireless how to farm. The beauty of it is that they can stay right on the farm and get the whole act—with a saxophone accompaniment.

SMILE OR FROWN
The mathematical dermatologist informs us that fifty-four muscles are worked to produce a frown, but that only fourteen are exercised in assembling a smile. When one figures that it takes more work to frown than to grin it seems funny that this isn't an even brighter world than it is.

TANGLED KEYS
Now Lieut. Gov. Young is asserting that the Richardson administration is guilty of extravagance. Only a little while back the same politician was stormily denouncing Gov. Richardson for his parsimony. It was said that the Governor's passion for economy was likely to impair the efficiency of some of the state institutions. Does anyone imagine that the expletives of the Lieutenant-Governor can be taken seriously? He doesn't know what he is talking about, himself.

SUCIDEN FIRST
The Wisconsin professor who blew out his brains after murdering his sweetheart made the same mistake that characterizes so many of our brainy assassins. They should blow out their own brains first. Then they wouldn't have sense enough to slay anybody else and their states would be clearer. Concentration of brain-blowing is the thing to be sought. With the right impulse to shoot the earth with gray matter the enthusiast should forthwith remove his derby and shatter his own brain. This will save the taking off of others who may not care to participate in the experiment.

MUST BE CAPABLE
Last year in Massachusetts one out of every five applicants for a driver's license was denied by the motor traffic department. Aside from this, more than 12,000 licenses were suspended or recalled. There are now eighteen states in which the auto driver must qualify for his job and Massachusetts is very serious about it. Something more than an ability to make monthly payments on a Ford is required before a man is suffered to hurt into the traffic around Boston Common. The authorities realize that it is incompetent driving rather than speed that is responsible for the heavy end of the road tragedies of a town.

THE DEAD KINGS
An Egyptologist who is now in Hollywood declares that the drivers in King Tut-ank-amen's slumber chest are digging up a ringer. The mummy of the real king is very much elsewhere and in another tomb. Possibly the general public will never know the difference. The man in the street may not be able to tell the cadaver of Ramses from that of Brian Boru and he wouldn't care a couple of boots which was which, anyhow. After a Pharaoh has been dead a couple of thousand years it is hardly worth while to wrangle over the identity of his bones. "Imperial Caesar, dead and turned to clay, may stop a hole to keep the wind away."

PRESUMPTUOUS FAITH
It is a foul philosophy that Clarence Darrow gives his fellows. In a recent speech he said: "There is neither purpose in existence nor a goal in living. If we knew where we were going we could pick out the road, but so far as science or philosophy avails us we are not going anywhere and there is no purpose to the path." He estimates further that there is no use in trying to make anything out of a man. He will respond to his heredity, but to nothing else. He makes the argument of the intellectual pessimist and it is the more perplexing in that it was made just as the bar committee in Chicago had accorded him and his associates $150,000 as fees for saving the youthful pair of Chicago moose from the gallows. Darrow seems to be a hopeless case himself. Maybe that is what he means.

RUSSIA A LONE WOLF

Formerly the bear, Russia is now a lone wolf. The soviet press admits the unpalatable fact and bemoans a state of world affairs which it attributes to "universal reactionary rule." The Moscow Pravda, the official soviet organ, frankly acknowledges that "the problem of the unity of the world proletariat is now very far from settlement." In commenting on the results of the American and British elections it says that "the enemies of the soviet republic are celebrating a victory," and it notes with evident dismay the triumphant tone of the conservative press of Poland, Finland and other European countries because of the downfall of MacDonald and the defeat of La Follette. It also bewails the fact that in Jugoslavia "the black reactionaries have won." Other Russian newspapers admit the possibility of a united international anti-Bolshevik front.

There is to be observed in this journalistic view of the situation no gleam of hope that soviet Russia will profit by its recognition by France, now regarded as of only a partial and evanescent nature. One Moscow paper says that Czechoslovakia impatiently awaits the downfall of the Herriot ministry and the return to power of Poincaré and Millerand that it may kill all measures for the establishment of normal diplomatic relations with Russia.

What does this spirit of aloofness mean? Why is every nation turning a cold shoulder to Russia?

It means that the rest of the world has ceased chasing phantoms. It means that there remains nowhere any conviction, even among radicals, that the soviet government should be given moral support. Even the most fanatical of Red leaders who went to Russia from America have been so fed up with Red terrorism as to have come away thoroughly disillusioned. This universal disclaimer of Russia's right to recognition is due to the mistakes, the excesses and the crimes of applied Socialism.

As for France, what wonder that her people should decry the unnatural and stultifying attitude of Herriot in seeking to establish friendly relations with the Bolsheviki, who robbed them of over $1,000,000,000, represented by the savings of a large group of small investors in Russian Imperial bonds which the soviet republic wholly repudiated? Why should France feel caught but impartial to a nation which not only did this but which expropriated the possessions of every French corporation in Russia, thus robbing the common people of France, who held the bulk of the securities of these companies, of many more millions of dollars which they had invested before the war because of French regard for Russia as its pledged ally against Germany?

And yet the soviet government still asks for recognition, with bone-headed disregard of the fact that it is in the position of a man who, having robbed and slain two or three of his neighbors, is shunned by all the rest.

The term "reactionaries" which falls so glibly from the tongue of Bolsheviki leaders and which, in their narrow use of it, they apply to all opposed to their miserable misrule, has taken on a new meaning. It is now used as a backfire against Bolshevism itself. In all the circles of liberal thought there is noted a tendency to regard the soviet system of applied Socialism as reactionary in the extreme. The whole radical school has been forced to accept the cold, sane truths of practical, social and economic life which are everlastingly opposed to the fallacies of those who would make the world over upon Utopian lines.

Russia is a lone wolf because she has alienated every lot of friendly sentiment which the nations of earth have felt for her, and she never can hope to be restored to grace until soviet rule shall be abolished and there shall be established in its place something worthy the name of government—a responsible administrative power with a decent respect for the opinions of mankind.

PEDDLING PEACE
Even people who hold the most ardent world-peace ideals can become tired of listening to persistent and prolix peace appeals. In fact, the subject can become a bore.

There is strong evidence of this among those clubs and organizations who engage paid speakers for their programs. Program chairmen are beset by professional speakers crying peace eloquence upon them—at handsome fees.

Women's clubs in particular have gone on record solidly for world peace. They stand ready to use their influence actively toward any measure that will help to abolish war.

World peace was the most vital subject discussed at the recent big federation convention held in this city and many crusaders for peace received opportunity for eloquence. But now there is a feeling that the time has come to enjoy the fruits of peace rather than to listen to interminable disquisitions thereon.

Will She Go Back to It?

—on the contrary—but because they were tired of listening to disquisitions upon the subject, since the arguments for world peace are pretty well established and accepted already.

SHE HATES GOGGLES
Rebecca West, the talented English writer who recently paid such high tribute to the chivalry of American men and, on the whole, found our country quite charming in many ways, couldn't let it go at that, but must now take to pointing out what she considers some of our national weaknesses. One of these is bad eyesight.

She remarks, "when decorated with horn-rimmed spectacles looks as if its owner had more than a little owl blood in him." If it is to be inferred from this that squinting or staring through a monocle, with puckered brow, and having to screw the little piece of glass into the eye every two minutes after it falls the length of its string, adds anything to good looks, then Miss West may be said to have peculiar standards of beauty. But if fewer Britons than Americans wear spectacles it is not because of the "perniciously small type" used by our newspapers, as the lady surmises. Many London journals use as small, if not smaller, type than that of American papers. So it is respectfully suggested that Miss West guess again.

Many Americans strain their eyes by using them long hours without rest. Some of our industrious office men think nothing of taking home, a pile of business papers and sitting up to midnight with them. An Englishman would do this if a great emergency demanded it, but not as a regular thing. Typists who do a great deal of copying find that eyestrain soon demands that they visit the oculist or optometrist. It is pretty safe to say that the average American uses his eyes far more than the average Englishman and walks less. There would seem to be a marked relation between walking and good eyesight. Patrolmen and mail carriers are said to have less use for spectacles than those of sedentary pursuits. Walking relieves congestion of the eyeballs and provides, by its many easy and natural changes of focus, a gentle exercise of the muscles of the eye which is found to be beneficial.

Then, too, many Americans probably are wearing glasses today who do not really require them at the outset and could have tided over a period of aching eyes by bathing and resting them, without resorting to lenses. John Hay, in his "Broadwinners," has a girl character of thirty years ago who wears glasses because she thinks they give her a distinguished look. Doubtless many other girls are wearing them today because they fancy they give them a smart appearance.

A too-frequent attendance at cheap movies, with bad projectors, makes work for the optometrist, who also finds it quite profitable to attend to the many cases of adults and children who sit within twenty feet of the screen.

But the West lady need not worry. The keen, studious, hard-working American, who has tackled and overcome so many problems, will learn one of these days how to take care of his eyes.

Just About It
James J. Montague

Geo. Bryan of Nebraska complains that he cannot support his family on his official salary.

Oh! pity the heroes who run every fall
For the jobs that the people bestow,
Who never are deaf to the popular call,
Though their pay is disgustingly low.
Their wives and their children may beg them for bread;
The world may glare in through the gate,
But still they discharge—though their hearts are like lead—
The duties ordained by the State.

"Oh! Mother!" a governor's baby will wail
As it wakes at the dawn of the day,
And writhes in its cradle, all shrunken and pale.
"Can't I have one small biscuit today?"
"Not today, precious darling," the mother replies
With one hand on the little one's brow;
While the other is dashing a tear from her eyes,
"For Father's the Governor now."

"Dear Mother," another child whimpers anon
In a tone of pathetic dole,
"The bitter chill blizzard blows hither and yon, Put a small-hunk of coal on the fire!"
"Alas!" says the mother, "we sold all the coal
For money to go toward the rent,
You'll have to get under the mattress, poor woe,
For Father's last cent has been spent!"

Their children are starving, their wives are in need,
They eat once a week at the most,
But never a man of this unfinishing breed
Has been known to abandon his post.
And in spite of their troubles and sorrows and cares,
Their motto is "Never say die!"
And when new men are needed for Governor's chairs,
There's a fresh and unflinching supply!

WILLING BURDEN
One would almost imagine that the people really enjoy carrying a heavy burden of taxation were it not for the moans that are heard when the bills are mailed. The State budget as reported by Gov. Richardson calls for the expenditure of more than $100,000,000 in the next two years. It is significant that most of the increase has been authorized and ordered by the people themselves. Almost $23,000,000 of the total will go to the schools. In the matter of providing education for their young the Californians are not necessarily lavish, but they are liberal. They are at least ready to tax themselves right royally in order to provide a princely gallery in which the young idea may be trained to shoot. The heavy end of all our tax burdens is ordered and ordained by the citizens of their own choice and volition. Even when the Governor makes a serious attempt to curtail expenditures the people may not fall into accord with his plans.

WHITE ELEPHANTS
Before this thing is over the government is likely to discover that the Muscle Shoals property is the largest white elephant ever held in captivity. And the politicians are not even willing to carry water for it.

LETTERS TO The Times

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—(To the Editor of The Times) Reader of The Times for thirty years please permit me to tip, to call your attention to an error in an article published editorial page, January 1, 1925, entitled "Some Republican Graves," in which he, among other things, says:

"When Theodore Roosevelt, intoxicated with power, maddened by ambition, his mind poisoned by the advice of such patriots (7) as Hiram Johnson and the other equally radical Bull Moose supporters, attacked the courts of the country, advocating the recall of judges (which doctrine Roosevelt, to a large extent, recanted later), he followed Thomas Jefferson, chief."

It was my pleasure to meet Theodore Roosevelt first in the Republican National Convention held in Chicago, in June, 1884, while he was for Senator Edmund of Vermont and against James G. Blaine for President, still I was so impressed with Mr. Roosevelt's 100 percent, every book published by him and have read all of his articles published in newspapers and his published speeches down to the hour of his death and I know of no article by Mr. Roosevelt upon the courts of our country or where he ever advocated the recall of judges.

I am a life-long Republican, casting my first vote for James G. Blaine and last vote for President Calvin Coolidge. I am one of the millions of Republicans who stand now and always behind the Republican party, that I at once purchased all of Mr. Roosevelt's published works and now have, I believe, every book published by him and have read all of his articles published in newspapers and his published speeches down to the hour of his death and I know of no article by Mr. Roosevelt upon the courts of our country or where he ever advocated the recall of judges.

"The Republican party mourns the passing of Theodore Roosevelt." "In an hour of difficulty and danger he has fallen like a warrior in battle, leaving a place in national and international leadership which cannot be filled."

"The trust tribute it is possible to pay his memory is the pledge that the party, the Republican party, shall remain true to the ideals of Americanism and of special advancement with which his name will forever be linked and for which, through out his life, he has struggled with such heroic and inspiring ardor and devotion."

"Under the leadership of Abraham Lincoln the Republican party proved its loyalty to the nation when charged with the full responsibility of government in a supreme crisis in the life of the Republic."

"Under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt the Republican party in a world crisis proved that its party could govern, it could lead to the same high level of devoted service and by its patriotic course complete national unity in the support of the country's cause."

"His gospel was to make it today the heritage of his countrymen. His message to all patriots, could be but speak, would be, regardless of the new-minted rap in the ranks, 'Carry on, carry on.'"

"Therefore, in the spirit of Washington and Lincoln and Roosevelt, the Republican party will go forward—over forward, it can lead to the same high level of devoted service and by its patriotic course complete national unity in the support of the country's cause."

"Harum-Scarum"
This term to express wildness or recklessness by the sanction of common usage has earned for itself a place in the dictionary. It is a corruption of the old English word "hare," which meant to excite or worry, and "scarum." A typical use of the old verb hare we have in this quotation with reference to teaching children:
"To hare and rate them is not to teach, but to vex them."

So to "share 'em-scare 'em" was to confuse, to disorganize, and it was from this that the term came to be used to describe chaotic disorganization or a person guilty of it.
An early American use of it is found in Washington Irving's "Alhambra," as follows:
"From a walk, the horses soon passed to a trot, from a trot to a gallop and from a gallop to a harum-scarum scamper."

We have reached the limit when a modest man on a windy day can hold his pants down.

Man's three periods: before anything; before nothing; when he could believe.

It's no hardship to have a female neighbor who can't sing unless she thinks she can.

Uncle Sam's European problem is to keep his hands off without showing his thumb.

Once dad's pants were cut down to fit Willie. Now they are even cut down to fit dad.

Nothing in the world is sadder than a hopeless except the negro desire of a New England author.

By working cross-word puzzles you learn a lot of new words that are useful nowhere else.

And now mother can cut down dad's pants to make skirts for the girls.

A kick town is a place where neighbors know how long your grocery bill has run.

How did the primitive human express himself when there were no doors to slam?

We have a leisure class in this country, but it keeps rather busy counting calories.

All you need to appreciate the blessings of poverty is an income of $10,000 a year.

It isn't difficult to love a bad man unless he has a better time than your conscience will permit.

Silence is golden, don't squander it.

Time flies, but some people are more rapidly than others.

It's the man of few words who is the cross-word puzzle.

A luxury is something the neighbors have that we can't afford.

Many a woman who does her fighting at home makes up in public.

Flattery should be handled with care. It loses its value when it comes in tact.

It isn't always wise to turn your back on the people who talk about you behind it.

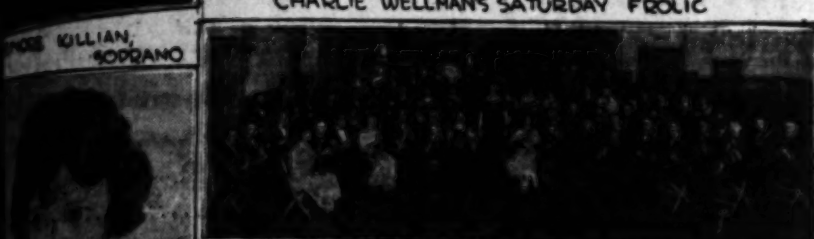

The best way to avoid being overworked is to attend strictly to your own business.

If you are so constituted that you can't make light of your troubles, be satisfied to keep it dark.

TRUST PACT ON RAISINS' SALE DENIED

Salesmanager of Sun-Maid Corporation Testifies at Government Trial

No agreement ever existed between the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers, Inc., and the wholesale grocers of Southern California not to sell Sun-Maid raisins to chain-store grocers, W. R. Odum, divisional sales manager of the Sun-Maid Raisin Corporation testified yesterday before Federal Judge James Odom was a witness for the government in the action brought against the Southern California Wholesale Grocers' Association and others on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Sherman antitrust law.

The witness made frequent reference to "legitimate" jobbers with whom the organization had dealings. He explained that was a term of his own coinage and that it meant that the jobbers had been personally thought his company refrained from selling to the chain stores for fear of losing thereby the trade of the "legitimate" jobbers. He said he understood the Sun-Maid raisins were sold in the stores of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

Minutes of the Southern California Association of Manufacturers representatives for the years 1919, 1920 and 1921 were introduced by the government for the purpose of centering attention on numerous entries that "after a general discussion the meeting adjourned." According to counsel for the defense, that entry had reference simply to routine business of the organization.

1 to 2—The Majestic Six, composed of A. W. Mace, saxophone, trombone and manager; Guy Bidle, piano; Gordon Smith, trumpet; Charlie Weiss, banjo; Bob Cota, drums; and Red Smith, saxophone and clarinet, will play dance numbers.

WIFE FEARS MATE SLAIN IN ROBBERY
Man Missing Three Days; Auto and Empty Wallet and Brief Case Found
Foul play is feared in the disappearance of C. L. Limes, 34 years of age, of 1416 East Fifty-fifth street, a collector for the Prudential Life Insurance Company, missing, according to his wife, since Wednesday. His automobile was discovered Thursday at Third and Main streets, containing his wallet and brief case, both empty, the police said.
On Tuesday, Mrs. Limes told officers to whom she reported the disappearance, Limes collected $100 that she knew of and may have had a much larger sum. Wednesday night, she said she was told by a friend, her husband was seen near Palms, but he did not come home. She feared he had been robbed and disabled, perhaps killed.
Limes is described as 5 feet 6 inches tall, weight 150 pounds. When last seen he wore a dark green suit.
